INTRODUCTION

In Medal of Honor, Manon's work in the French Resistance proved vital to your cause. Now, it's 1940, and Medal of Honor Underground returns to Europe to tell her story. Manon's country has been invaded, and help won't arrive for four long years. So... what's a girl to do? Lead Manon from her beginnings in the Resistance to her recruitment by the OSS to thwart the German onslaught. Armed with an arsenal of new weapons, you battle tanks, half-tracks, motorcycles, and Gestapo thugs across a wide variety of authentic WWII locations in Europe and North Africa. From the cobblestone streets of Paris to the narrow alleyways of Casablanca, from a doomed Italian monastery to Himmler's dark medieval castle in Germany, undertake challenging missions to outwit and outgun the enemy. Procured weapons, expert stealth, and a poised trigger finger—you'll need them all to become a seasoned OSS veteran and to return home to take your part in the liberation of your nation.

To get to the password screen, select Options from the Main Menu (known as the "Safe House") and then select Passwords.

HOW SECRET CODES WORK

You must finish a mission with excellent ratings on each level to unlock a Secret Code. Once a code is unlocked, look for it on the Secret Codes screen. You may then choose to activate the code and use it. Some secret codes will only affect levels that you have already successfully completed. To get to the secret codes screen, select Options from the Main Menu (known as the "Safe House") and then select Secret Codes.

PLAYING THE GAME

With the basic controller commands at your disposal, you are well equipped to meet the enemy. However, you need to know more than just how to aim and shoot to survive your missions.

PAUSE SCREEN

You may pause the game at any time during play by pressing the START Button. The Pause Screen lists your objectives for the current level. A red box next to an objective indicates that you have completed that objective. The screen also lists the number of enemies neutralized for that level.

The other function of the compass is to serve as a health meter with green indicating full health. As you take damage the meter turns red. When the meter runs out, your life is over.

NEW FEATURES IN MEDAL OF HONOR UNDERGROUND

BUDDY MODE

Buddies will help you in certain missions. Some are important to keep alive until they perform a specific task that will help you in completing your mission. Pay attention to your surroundings and move cautiously so you don't miss clues as to who is important to your eventual mission success.

MOVING VEHICLES

When you see a moving vehicle, it is usually being used by an enemy. This is the case with tanks, halftracks, motorcycles with sidecars, etc. But sometimes you will hop on a vehicle and use its power or weapon to help you fulfill your mission.

DISGUISE MODE WITH CAMERA

If your pass isn't convincing them and the enemy is getting suspicious, take a picture of them with your camera. Sometimes flattery will work where phony credentials won't. To use the camera press and hold the AIM/LOOK Button to frame the picture then press the FIRE Button to take the shot. When not aiming the camera, press the FIRE Button to show your credentials.

MEDAL OF HONOR

The Medal of Honor is the highest honor the United States can bestow on members of its Armed Forces. It is presented by the President in the name of Congress, and is awarded "for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life, above and beyond the call of duty, in action involving actual conflict with an opposing armed force." One of the nation's oldest commendations, the Medal of Honor was established during the Civil War administration of Abraham Lincoln. (The first Medal was presented in 1863 to Army Private Jacob Parrot who, along with a small group of other Union soldiers, penetrated deep behind Confederate lines to destroy part of a railroad.) At the dawn of the 21st Century, after millions had served their country, only 3,433 Medals had been authorized.

About the Congressional Medal of Honor Society

In 1946, the Medal of Honor Society was formed to perpetuate and uphold the integrity of the Medal of Honor and to help the Medal of Honor recipients. On April 12, 1957, the 85th Congress passed legislation incorporating the Medal of Honor Society into the Congressional Medal of Honor Society (CMOHS) and was signed into law by President Eisenhower on August 5, 1958.

There are no "winners" of the Medal of Honor, only recipients. The CMOHS teaches young people that the Medal of Honor is about the potential which exists within each of them to do something extraordinary if time and events so conspire—it is about ordinary people doing what others deem to be extraordinary. The Medal is worn as a reminder to everyone that many have served and received no recognition in spite of merit. The society encourages every American to conduct themselves in such a manner that we, as a nation, are worthy of the sacrifices made by those who did not return from the field of battle.

DreamWorks Interactive™ and Electronic Arts™ are privileged to be partnered with CMOHS in the Society's continuing education and awareness efforts. You can learn more about the Society and the recipients at the Society website, located at www.cmohs.org.

LEGION OF HONOR

France's Légion d'honneur was established by Napoleon Bonaparte when he was First Consul in 1802 to acknowledge outstanding military and civil merits in the service of France. It is currently France's premiere order and is awarded for gallantry in action or for distinguished military or civilian service during peacetime to both French people as well as foreigners. The distinction of Légion d'honneur is divided into three grades: Knight, Officer and Commander, as well as two ranks : Grand Officer and Grand Cross. The Head of State is Grand Master by right, but it is the High Chancellor, named for six years, who administers the activities of the institution.

The first ceremony in which Napoleon bestowed the Légion d'honneur took place in the Invalides church in Paris on July 15th, 1804. During the ceremony, eminent civilian personalities received the Legion of Honor from the hands of their Emperor.
